

Texas Winds Musical Outreach

Safe Workplace Policy

It is the intent of Texas Winds Musical Outreach to provide a safe environment for employees, contractors and volunteers. It is also our intent to properly manage any incidents that occur so as to minimize injury and other forms of loss. A well-managed workplace safety program can benefit our organization and its people in countless ways.

In order for Texas Winds Musical Outreach to achieve its goals, we have developed this workplace safety program outlining the policies and procedures regarding employee and volunteer health and safety. Each and every individual must become familiar with the program, follow and enforce the procedures, and become an active participant in this workplace safety program.

While management, the Texas Winds Musical Outreach Executive Director, will be responsible for developing and organizing this program, its success will depend on the involvement of each employee, contractor and volunteer. We look forward to your cooperation and participation.

Staff — paid employees, contractors and unpaid volunteers — should be encouraged to report any unsafe conditions right away to the Executive Director and should be educated how to react in an emergency involving potential violence at the workplace.
